Kindergartners enjoyed the beautiful fall weather. Here we are showing off our Chicka Chicka

Boom Boom name projects under a maple tree...not a coconut tree!

Kindergarten Hebrew

Who's behind the delet (door)? Kindergarten made pictures of people and creatures behind doors as we studied the Hebrew letter dalet!

1st Grade

Finding the difference between living and non-living things.

First graders are also learning about habitats. They drew a garden habitat and made animals that live in it.

Kita Alef

Kita Alef wrote books about wishing people "Shabbat Shalom" to celebrate our study of the letter shin!

This week Kita Alef did some prayer (and some dancing) outside!

Ava enjoying Shabbat with friends!

2nd & 3rd Grade

Takeshi with an art project he finished in Japanese and art class with his mom, Junko.
(Japanese origami butterflies making music, he calls the piece “Butterflies on Arpeggio Street”),

Takeshi and Benjamin in Mr Alfasi's remote class.

Kiddush Corner

Walden Oren celebrated his birthday this week with his classmates!

2nd - 5th Grade Hebrew

2nd-5th graders are now using iTalam to reinforce their Hebrew learning. Check out the video below for more about the program.

LIBRARY

Hello From the Library!

It has been my pleasure getting to know all of the students the past few weeks during library time! It will take a little time to learn all of their names, but I appreciate all of the happy, "Hello Mrs. House!" greetings that I am receiving from them.

In the past few weeks as I have been getting to know the lay of the library land, our lessons have been centered in the earlier grades on positive book care, the parts of a book and reinforcing the differences between fiction and nonfiction. We have enjoyed books such as The Library Dragon and Penguin Problems. The upper grades are also being reminded of the differences of fiction and non-fiction and also we have been having discussions about characters with problems and solutions while enjoying the chapter book Granny Torelli Makes Soup by Sharon Creech.

While following county guidelines, we are starting to check out one library book at a time with students. I am pulling books based on what students are telling me they are interested in and displaying them around the room so they can look at them and tell me which one they would like to check out. When their book is returned to a box outside the library, it will not be placed back on the bookshelves for many days to ensure it is germ-free. I hope that soon we can return to the system of letting students browse through the shelves again.

I look forward to continuing to work with your students, encouraging the enjoyment of reading and reinforcing library and research skills.

Happy Reading!
